Of Local Interest.

Some People We Know, and We Will Profit by Hearing About Them.

This is a purely local event. It took place in Norway. Not in Belfast or New York. You are asked to investigate it. Asked to believe a citizen's word; To confirm a citizen's statement. Any article that is endorsed at home is more worthy of confidence. Than one you know nothing about, Endorsed by unknown people.

Otto Schnuer, Main St., Norway, Maine, says: "I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. I consider this remedy an excellent one. Several years ago my kidneys became weak and my system was run down. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Stone's Drug Store, cured me of the attack and I have taken them since then with good results."

The above statement was given July 24, 1908, and on July 17, 1911, Mr. Schnuer said: "Doan's Kidney Pills still have my highest endorsement. The cure they effected three years ago has been permanent." 50-51

C. A. RICHARDSON, Norway

Reminiscences of an Old Norwegian.

Of "Norway in the Forties" I can read and hear. But "Norway in the Thirties" To me seems far more real. For I was a little child, And ran as children will, Around its scattering lanes and streets, And up its grand old hills.

'Twas there we picked the strawberries Wet with the morning dew, And where the iron horse runs We picked the berries blue.

Again as memory takes me back I see my childhood days, And faces of my playmates there Before my vision fades.

Once more as I sit in the olden days We climb the "broad hall stair," In homes still standing on the street Saved from the greedy fire.

I plainly see the churches then, There were out two that day, One on the roof and one on the ground The other on the way.

With high backed pews, shut in with doors, The preacher in the pulpit roared, High up against the wall;

And night still we were peeped out From curtained windows red, Where music rose to fill the house, By Master Song.

The schoolhouse was the very same Our fathers studied in, We rolled about the same hill Close to the boys' brim.

The island, O, where is it now? And yet, this I have seen, Seemed full a league, that day, And little feet would not get wet.

For wheels would turn, and water run, And I was not to be deterred. My father's boat was our teacher there, Who came from miles afar, And ruled us with an iron will.

Our setting sun had set, We had to row and row, She taught us rules of etiquette, And when Squire Holt came in, We had to bow and bow.

A failure was a sin. She made us learn the Bible rules Taught in those days of old, And showed to us our many sins, 'Till our blood grew cold.

She did her duty faithfully, As she could see the way, And left with us a memory That lingers to this day.

Where are they now, the boys and girls Who went to school with me? But few are left to read these lines Or wonder who I can be.

Some left us in their days of youth When evening came, Some rounded out their life of work And lived to "do and dare."

We, who are left, can see today Our setting sun run low, And know that soon the boatman's call Will bid the last to go.

Seven Ages of Christmas Turkey. All the world's a platter And all the men and women merely eaters. They have with them always their appetites, And one is sure in his time plays many parts.

His acts being seven ages; at first the roast, Reposing graciously on the roasted side, Flanked by rich dressing and cranberry sauce, A dainty dish to set before the king;

Thence to the warm oven, he served up next day, Lest we forget the Yuletide's merry meal; The cold cuts at luncheon and at tea, Still succulent, if you do like cold cuts;

Next comes the stew, yolk of the egg, With dumplings made to fatten up the dish And which, forsooth, do cause us many groans And sighs, when we are seated at the board.

Garbed with parsley cunningly and mixed With what suspiciously do taste like veal, And so they play their part in the sixth age shifts Into the lean and languid turkey hash, Reminiscence of a slab of glossy past, A bitter aftermath of glorious past.

Then comes the end, the last, the best, of all, That ends this strange, eventful history; A skeleton, a rack of clean picked bones, The bones in dust way into the oven Of second childhood and mere oblivion, Sans breast, sans legs, sans wings, sans gravy, sans.

The musical entertainment Thursday evening was especially pleasing, characters being:—Eads, Leonard, Eustice, circle, Sam Pitts, Morgan, George Chadbourn, Mayberry, Dordoni, Hamlin, Buck, Bartlett, Simpson, Dennison, H. Pitts, end, Massey, Wright.

The jokes of the end men and the chorus and solos of the old plantation melodies, indicated that the boys carried out well their parts under the direction of their musical instructor, Mrs. Sallie W. Scribner.

Miss Fearless & Co., of Friday evening also filled the chapel and held the attention of all until the curtain dropped at the conclusion of Act III. The young ladies certainly did great credit to themselves and their helpers. The recitations, the acting and the music were of a high order.

The following awards were made:—Doll's name (Jeanette), Winner, Maud Whitham. Cake's weight, Winner, Lewis Howard. Pumpkin seeds, Winner, Mrs. Geo. Simpson.

Last of all, Bill Eustice auctioned off the few remaining articles and the audience departed, noting it one of the best fairs ever given by B. A.

SAVED HIS WIFE'S LIFE.

"My wife would have been in her grave to-day," writes O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., "if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time." Care of the Complexion.

Don't bathe in hard water; soften it with a little powdered borax or a handful of oatmeal.

Don't attempt to remove dust with cold water; give the face a hot bath with soap; then give it a thorough rinsing with clear tepid water or cold water.

Don't rub the face with too coarse a towel.

Don't be afraid of sunshine and fresh air; they give bloom and color.

Don't forget that the nurses of woman's beauty are seven. Fresh air, sunshine, warmth, rest, sleep, food and whatever stirs the blood, be it exercise or enthusiasm.

Don't neglect sleep; you can even sleep yourself good-looking. A nap and a hot bath will make any woman good-looking.

There are many Incidental Benefits in having a Checking Account in THIS STRONG NATIONAL BANK

It enables you to keep track of your money matters in a systematic way. The entries in your bank book show how much money you have received, and the stubs of your check book and also the cancelled checks returned by the Bank show how much you have paid out and where the money went. In this way this Bank virtually keeps your books for you, and, we may add, few individuals ever succeed in keeping accurate account of their finances in any other way.

The cancelled checks, returned by the Bank each month, are legal receipts for your payments. If you pay in cash you will often fail to get receipts but paying by check automatically gives you an indisputable receipt for every payment and in a form very easy to file for future reference. You also avoid asking for a receipt, which is sometimes, though wrongfully, looked upon as evidence of personal suspicion.

In view of all these advantages can you ignore the need of a bank account for yourself?

The Rayo Lamp

It Never Flickers

The long winter evenings give a woman a splendid chance for sewing or embroidery; but her eyes suffer from the strain unless she has a good light.

The Rayo is the best lamp made.

It gives a strong, diffused light that is remarkably easy to the eyes. There is no glare to it; no flicker. It lights up a whole room.

The Rayo is an economical lamp, too. You get the most possible light-value for the oil burned; and the Rayo itself is a low-priced lamp. Yet it is a handsome lamp—an ornament to any room in the house.

The Rayo Lamp is easily lighted without removing shade or chimney; easy to clean and revivified. Made of solid brass, nickel-plated; also in numerous other styles and finishes.

Ask your dealer to show you his line of Rayo lamps or write for descriptive circular to any agency of the

Do You Get Up
With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism,
pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to
Dr. Kilmer & Co., Home Swamp-Root, Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Veterinarian school at Washington, D. C., returned home Saturday, and will remain here until after Christmas.

Mrs. Elia Pray, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Billings and other friends in this vicinity, returned to her home in Providence, Wednesday.

Donald P. Chapman and family who have been visiting in Bethel, returned Wednesday night. Mr. Chapman who spent a portion of his time hunting, brought home two good deer.

There is some talk that the clock dial which is to go into the Deering Memorial church will be of glass and will be illuminated by electric lights in the interior. The clock is to have one dial on the main street side.

William J. Wheeler and George Briggs served on the Grand Jury, United States Court, in Portland. Charles H. Howard and George B. Merrill, who were drawn traverse jurors from here at the same court, were excused.

The Enterprize Club held its December meeting with Mrs. George Ess man, Monday afternoon. The Oratorio "The Creation by Hayden was the subject of study. Following the meeting a fine musical program was rendered.

The new bell was installed in the Baptist Church, Tuesday, and it happened to be the birthday of Henry F.
Morton in whose memory the bell was given.

It was first rung late in the afternoon by Mrs. H. F. Morton.

The sale at the Congregational Church was very successful. There were the usual variety of articles on sale at the different booths with a large variety of pretty things on sale. The table of Water Colors, the work of Mrs. J. F.
Plummer, was especially notable.

The new dam for the Maine Power Co. was completed last week. The crew have been working nights a good deal of the time so as to get it completed before another cold spell. The weather has been exceptionally good and the cement has had a good chance to set.

Mrs. Riza Whitman, Mrs. George R.
Morton, Katherine Morton and Henry Morton have gone to Pasadena, Cal., where they will spend the winter. Mam H. L. Hubbard accompanied them. They on the trip as far as Grass Valley, Cal., where she will visit her brother and Christiana by Mrs. Wirt Stanley; The Royal Family of Norway by Mrs. D. M.

Stewart and Norway in Winter and its sports by Mrs. Herman Wilson.

Special meetings are being held each evening last week, except Saturday, at the Baptist church. W. E. Witter, D.
D. of Boston spoke Monday evening on Missions. Rev. F. M. Lamb of Buck-field spoke Tuesday evening and assisted in the services each evening during the rest of the week.

Mt. Pleasant Rebekeh Lodge entertained about twenty members of Woodstock Lodge of Harrison, Wednesday evening.
After their arrival, supper was served in Grand Army Hall followed by a short program. The degree work was explained and a light lunch served.
During the latter part of the evening a sociable was held with Howard Shaw at the piano.

The new bell arrived Saturday for the Baptist Church and is to be put into the belfry at once. It was cast by the Moseley Foundry of Troy, New York and weighs 1600 pounds, and is inscribed as follows: "Presented to the South Paris Baptist Church in memory of Henry Franklin Morton, one of the founders of the Church, by Mrs. Henry F. Morton and her children, October 25, 1911."

About sixty of the Knights of Pythias attended the meeting of the Westwood Lodge at Yarmouth, Wednesday night, going by special train. The Westwood Lodge worked the rank of Page on one candidate and Hamio Lodge of South Paris worked the rank of Knight on four candidates. A fine supper was served and between two and three o'clock in the morning the members arrived home at South Paris.

The story is told of one of our prominent grocery men who attended the recent banquet and being very fond of pies made away with three. On being asked how the fourth pie, which was a handsome fancy chocolate one, tasted, he replied, "Oh just as good as the first."
Several who sat at the same table called attention to the store next morning to inquire as to the state of his health and learned from his cheery countenance that all was well.

Will Red Light Prevent Scars?

Small pox is a disease to be dreaded because of the deep scars sometimes left on the face and hands. This is said to be due largely to the action of light.
On the body away from the light there are but few scars. If the patient is in a room where there is red light from the very first and all the time, it is claimed there will be no scars. The red light acts similar to red light in photography.
This can be arranged easily. If one does not have red glass in the windows a thin red paper may be pasted on the inside of the glass, and the lamp globes covered the same way. Or the glass may be fixed some other way,—anyway so the patient may be under a red light all the time.

If this is true, and we read it is the German way of treating this disease to prevent deep scars, would it not be the thing for a pest house to be fitted up for red light?

MIDDLE INTERVALL.

Lillian Buck who has been at Bethel Hill for some time under the care of a doctor and trained nurse from an injury to the hip from being thrown from a carriage on Swan Hill with her parents, while her sister Gladys Buck is taking her place in the school room at Sunday river where Lillian was much loved by her pupils and teachers. She is one of our best teachers. Gladys is having good success and may prove to be as good a teacher as her sister.

School here is taught by Mollie Stanley. We bespeak for her a successful term though only a few scholars and they ought to be at the graded school at the village, yet if any teacher at all is here a good one is needed, one that will train the pupils to good manners and instruction that will be useful in life also. A good character can be stamped by the teacher in the school room. Temperance can be enforced and the rising generation of good use in the world. Just the art of being kind is the secret of a good teacher and that is heart-work. School books do not do it all.

OXFORD.

Dunbar-Twitchell.
Tuesday, Dec. 19, at 10 o'clock a. m., occurred the marriage of Mildred Dunbar and Charles Twitchell at the residence of Rev. Wm. Merton Snow, Otisfield.

The bride and groom had no attendants. The bride was attired in her blue traveling dress, the groom in the conventional black. They drove immediately to their own home on Fore Street, where the wedding dinner was served.

Mr. Twitchell is a farmer and fruit dealer, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Twitchell. Mrs. Twitchell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dunbar.

In the evening at eight o'clock about sixty invited guests arrived and amid congratulations, confetti and rice, enjoyed a pleasant evening. The bride was attired in a dainty gown of white muslin.

Many beautiful presents were received by the young couple—a nice chamber set, a sewing machine, chiffoniere, pictures, linen, glass, china, silver, cut glass and stoneware. A nice bunch of ice cream and fancy cakes was served. Evelyn Linell, Ethel Trebilcock, Gladys Edwards and Melissa Twitchell furnished music.

Mrs. CHARLOTTE MARSTON AND FAMILY.

ALBANY.

Herbert Marston, Albany's eldest child, passed away at his home, Friday, Dec. 15th at 2 o'clock a. m. The cause of his death was heart trouble of which he was seriously ill only a few days.

He was born July 10, 1824, the son of Amos and Lydia Needham Marston, who were among the earlier settlers of Albany coming from Tewksbury, Mass. Mr. Marston married Lucinda S. Proctor of North Waterford, who died in Jan. 1888 leaving four children, George Marston of Lowell, Mrs. Chas. A. Pride of Norway, Mrs. Ella R. Andrews of Stow and Mrs. Stephen S. Kimball of Lowell.

In 1861 he married Charlotte Elliott of Lowell, three children were born to them, Mrs. Eugene Andrews of Norway, Charles A. who always lived at home and Amos J. who died in early childhood. Besides his children, and an invalid wife, whom he has given care it was possible for one as old and feeble as he to give, he leaves a brother, Bravely Marston of Mechanic Falls and seven grand children.

Mr. Marston has always lived, excepting a few years spent in Massachusetts, where a young man on the farm, where he was born. He was a good citizen and a successful farmer. The large smooth fields, which were his pride, speak plainly of the many years of patient labor and hard work. He was a member of the Grange and a successful candidate, Saturday. They have a special meeting next Saturday to confer the third and fourth on a large class.

HOW TO POLISH FURNITURE.
Crude Oil, Turpentine and Benzine Make an Effective Mixture.

When one has new and highly polished furniture to take care of, if the care for it is not done correctly there is sure to arise some dissatisfaction. For this there is only one remedy—to learn how to do it correctly and then follow the instructions always.

A furniture polish of which there is none better can be made of two parts crude oil, one part benzine and one part turpentine, but this should not be applied directly to the furniture without a preliminary cleaning.

Taking a chamolis and cold water, rub the surface to be polished very gently after first having given it a careful dusting. When done rubbing with the chamolis dry well with a soft pad of cheesecloth or some other equally soft rag, and then you are ready for the real polishing of the varnished surface.

There should be no dearth of wads of cheesecloth or any like cloth that will serve the same purpose, old discarded cotton kerchiefs the worse for trips to the laundry being quite suitable. Slightly saturate one of these wads with the oil mixture and go over the surface that is to be polished very briskly. After having done this the dry cloths are utilized in the taking up of the excess oil that is on the varnish, generally very little if applied with discretion. It is well to remember that it is far better to make several frequent applications than to try to apply an excess quantity of oil at one time to make it suffice for any length of time.

When an article of furniture is polished correctly as above set forth it need not require to be polished more than four to six times a year unless the air be very dusty, when a polishing every month or so will be none too much, as dust is injurious to nicely varnished surfaces, and the only thing to do is to give it polishings regularly.

How to Make Gingerbread.

Put into a basin six ounces of fresh butter and a half pound of treacle. Warm thoroughly in the oven. In another basin put two breakfast cupsful of flour, a tablespoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of ground ginger, the same of mixed spice and a teaspoonful of carbonate of soda. Mix, add the warmed treacle and butter and enough warm milk to make a stiff batter. Bake in a moderate oven in a shallow, well greased tin.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Surface Japan.
"Surface Japan," short notes of a swift survey, by Don C. Seitz, author of "Writings by and about James Abbott McNeill Whistler," "Discoveries in Every-day Europe" and "Ella and Elsewhere," is his recent book, just published by Harper & Brothers. It is illustrated in color by photogravure and marginal sketches after Hokusai.

The book of 160 pages tells of the interesting country as Mr. Seitz sees it. He calls it a surface survey but as one reads, it dawns on the reader that the surface of the country must have been gone over with something very fine, like a fine-tooth comb for example, to get together such an array of the customs of the people and the ways of the country. We quote:—"It could always tell what road a man came East by the way he treated servants. If by Suez and China he paid the rickshaw man two-thirds of his demand, and kicked him if he complained. If by the Pacific he smiled, gave him more than his charge and made friends with him." "Night comes in heavily in Japan. The sun loses no time in bidding the earth adieu. It sets not in glory but with art, sinking softly out of view in trim of pink and silver, and the twilight is merely momentary."

"Youth and vigor are the enviable things with us. Age and dignity are the high desires in the East. To turn from toil to contemplation and from common contact to the reserve of years is the wished for outcome of Japanese life. Men hasten to become old."

"America shuts the door in the Oriental face and then expects the excluded race to come in cheerfully via the keyhole and do business."

"Japan is so kaleidoscopic that there can be as many opinions of the country as there are visitors."

Christmas Time Is Here!

See the windows of the merchants who have been telling through the columns of the Advertiser of the many pretty and useful things for Christmas.

Once more the merchants have made ready for the annual Christmas trade and many have prepared their stores and windows with very pretty and attractive decorations for the occasion. The object of this sketch is to summarize in a general way what each of the ADVERTISER's merchants are offering you for the Christmas season and urge you to call at the different places of business and see the many "up-to-date" Christmas gifts. The clerks will cheerfully show you the goods and you cannot help finding something you want. Give them a call and see.

It is also our aim to describe the windows, so that our subscribers at a distance can gain an idea how the village of Norway looks in its holiday array.

Otto Schuerer shows a large stock of toys, games, picture books, doll carriages, sleds, perambulators, and a large variety of plain and fancy work baskets. His windows are decorated with streamers of insel with red and green fancy garlands, Christmas bells and ornaments.

J. H. Fletcher has his upper window decorated in a solid arch of red crepe paper ornamented with white plinks. The background of the window is in white and displays a large variety of fancy boxes of candy, a bouquet of red plinks and a row of striped, colored candy canes. The lower window is decorated in green and white similar to the upper window, and displays a supply of homemade candies.

The upper window at F. P. Stone's is decorated with red and green overhead streamers, Christmas bells and with a large bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums in the center. This window contains a large assortment of brass novelties, toilet sets, perfumes, books, cigar sets, mirrors, shaving supplies and many others. In the lower window is a fine assortment of leather goods which include pocket books, purses, vanity bags, etc. The decorations are similar to those in the upper window. The store has its extra counters and is in its usual Christmas array.

SOUTH PARIS, MAINE

Western Maine Poultry Show.

Once more the premium list of the Western Maine Poultry association has been issued for the coming show which will be held at New hall, South Paris, on Jan. 2, 3 and 4.

Two of these poultry exhibits have already passed into history as grand successes and it is the aim of the association to make this third exhibit even better than in either of the preceding years.

This year the association is in better financial standing and the cash and special prizes are higher. The society is endeavoring to make this section of the State the headquarters of the fancy breeds. There is an unusually large number of specialties including cash, silver cups, subscriptions to various magazines and papers, agricultural implements and tools, silk ribbons, books, chairs, medicines, settings of eggs and many others.

The judges for this exhibit will be Daniel P. Shroves of Fall River, Mass., and Geo. P. Coffin of Freeport. Officers of the Western Maine Poultry Association:

Pres.—A. E. Shurtliff, South Paris.
Vice Pres.—H. E. Lovjoy, Norway; A. E. Clark, South Paris; B. J. Flint, North Waterford; Dr. E. A. Wright, Bolster's Mills; E. M. Tucker, Canton; E. L. Atwood, Mechanic Falls; Silas Bartlett, Lewiston; George P. Coffin, Freeport; John Rogers, Oxford.

Treas.—D. H. Bean, South Paris.

WEST PARIS.

Mrs. Effie Mayhew Robinson.

Mrs. Effie Mayhew Robinson, wife of the late James Robinson, who has been afflicted with a tubercular trouble for the past year or two, passed away Monday night at the home of her brother-in-law, George Robinson, of Snow's Falls, where she has been tenderly cared for the past few months.

She was born in Summer, Oct. 14, 1876.

She leaves one child, a little girl, Myrtle, about six years old, who is living with her aunt, Mrs. Mamie Chandler, in Summer.

Her father, Clinton Mayhew, lives in Summer; her mother died about fourteen years ago. She married James Robinson, Jan. 1, 1902, who died about five years ago.

All of her life has been spent in Summer and Paris except a few months in the Hebron Sanatorium, when she first became sick.

Everything that could be done for her health and comfort was gladly done by her brothers and sisters. Besides those already mentioned she leaves three brothers, Percy C., John P. and Frank W. Mayhew, all unmarried and make their homes in the vicinity of West Paris; two sisters, Mrs. Lena Andrews and Mrs. Mamie Chandler of Summer.

The funeral was held at the M. E. church, Thursday at 1 p. m. Rev. C. H. Young, who was an old acquaintance of the family, spoke words of comfort to the bereaved. Beautiful cut flowers bespoke the love she bore.

Schools close this week Thursday for a two weeks' vacation.

Ethel Howe is home from her teaching at Mechanic Falls for the holiday vacation.

Charles Meader and Lou Nutting of Auburn were recent guests at Levi Shedd's.

Mrs. James Farquhar of Gorham, N. H., has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles Curtis.

Good Pie Crust.
Never set a pie on a flat surface when removing from the oven, says an exchange. Use a flatiron stand or wire trivet stand. This prevents steamed and soaked and soggy under pie crust. Three table forks placed so that the tines meet in one point in the center will let the air circulate under when one has not the stand.

Folks who declared they never saw it so warm before on the 11th of December were probably right, as the warm weather record for that date was broken when the thermometer reached 63. The previous record was 63, made Dec. 11, 1881.

FRYEBURG.
Reception to Department President.
A Belfast friend writes:—Mrs. Wallace R. Tarbox, Department President of Maine Ladies G. A. R. has been making official visits to her circles the past three weeks and it is plausibly demonstrated that she is one of the most popular presidents that order has ever had and she leaves, a most pleasing impression in every place she visits.
T. H. Marshall Circle No. 8, in Belfast, Dec. 12 gave a grand reception in her honor as Mrs. Tarbox was a native of Belfast and one of the most popular teachers in the city and is ever a welcome visitor.

Memorial Hall had been decorated beautifully with hundreds of flags and a fine dinner was served at noon. At 2 o'clock over one hundred members of the Circle and Post assembled which was the largest number since Memorial day.
When Mrs. Tarbox and Mrs. Gifford, Dept. Inspector, entered the hall they were loudly applauded and after the address of welcome Mrs. Tarbox very beautifully responded to the unexpected greeting extended to her and proved to her friends she was the same loyal patriotic woman that she was a girl.
A reception of one hour was held after the G. A. R. meeting closed, in order that Mrs. Tarbox friends who were not members might meet her. In the evening she was the guest of the Sons of Veterans at a meeting held in her honor. Mrs. Tarbox was becomingly gowned in a violet costume.

Percival Dennison has gone to East Conway to stay with his mother, Mrs. C. F. Ridlon.
Mrs. Wallace R. Tarbox, president of the Maine department of the G. A. R., with her inspector, Mary R. Gifford of Auburn, have been visiting in Bethel, Thomaston, Camden, Belfast, Bangor, Bangor and Foxcroft.

Ridgely C. Clark, principal of Fryeburg Academy, attended a conference composed of a committee from the faculty of Bowdoin College, and the headmaster of the college preparatory schools. Seventeen teachers were invited and sixteen attended. College entrance requirements and methods of admission were discussed.
At the meeting of the school board the following teachers were elected for the winter term, beginning Jan. 2:—Abby Smith, principal of village grammar; Clara Page, intermediate room; Abby Ballard, primary room; Mayd Gable, West Fryeburg; Mrs. Pearl Bemis, North Fryeburg; Eleanor Masterton, Harbor; Emily Cushman, Smart's Hill; Sybil Barker, Tort Bridge; Elizabeth Bailey, Fryeburg Center; Elsie Chase, East Fryeburg.
A birthday surprise party was given to Mrs. Alvin Merrill in her new home. Mr. Merrill and Mrs. Merrill's sister were in the secret, and delicious refreshments were in readiness. Mrs. Susan Walker Merrill is a graduate of Emerson School of Oratory, and is one of Maine's most attractive readers. She taught in Fryeburg Academy 15 years. The teachers from the Academy who were present—Ridgely C. Clark, Mrs. Ella Chase, Mildred Brooks, Olive Beveridge and Rudolf Grossman, Dr. Lougee and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burrell and Sarah Walker, were guests.

Norway, Me., A Great Producers of Sporting Goods.

Comparatively few people know to what a large extent Norway, Maine, furnishes the hunters and fishermen of this and other countries with the various kinds of sporting goods. Rowboats, small power boats, canoes, snowshoes, knap sacks, rods, rod cases and artificial flies are manufactured and shipped all over the country.

There are three different concerns engaged in the manufacture of snowshoes. The oldest and best known of these is Col. A. M. Dunham, the originator of the famous "Dunham Shoe." Mr. Dunham has twice equipped the Peary Arctic expedition with his snowshoes and each member of the party which made the final dash for the pole, wore a pair of snowshoes made in Norway. Mr. Dunham has just received an order for 150 pairs of these shoes to be shipped to Alaska where a snowshoe gets the hardest kind of usage. He has also shipped goods to Siberia.

H. B. Hosmer also makes a large number of high quality snowshoes as well as canoes, knapsacks and rod cases. Tubbs Brothers have just purchased a mill equipped with machinery where they are making snowshoes in large quantities.

George R. Stephenson designer and builder of boats, canoes and small power boats, does a good business in this line. His canoe models are a direct offspring of the famous "Peterborough" canoe designed by Mr. Stephenson's father at the Peterborough, Ontario, which, by the way is the real home of the canoe. The most expert canoeists in this country famous for their paddling, sailing and poling in quick water are to be found in Ontario and western Canada.

Another article that is dear to every fisherman is the fly rod. C. M. Smith, a large experience in all methods of fishing, has made a large number of split bamboo fly rods and tied thousands of trout, salmon and bass flies. Another important article that all hunters and fishermen want to find after they have returned from a successful trip is a good taxidermist to mount their moose and deer heads, birds and fish. J. W. Nash (Nash of Maine) is a taxidermist of country wide repute, is the originator of the "Trout Mezzo," the most lifelike and natural method of mounting a fish ever known. Mr. Nash has for a number of years had charge of the exhibition work for the Canadian Pacific International and Grand Trunk Railways. These road equip exhibitors have fine mounted specimens of game and fish of all kinds and send them over the country to show the different kinds to be found in their respective localities.

There are in Norway more hunters, fishermen, trappers, guides, mineralogists, ornithologists, bitanists, taxidermists and students of nature than in any other town of its size in the United States. The above article was written by K. C. Gurley, a former Norway boy, now with L. J. Mutt Co., importers and manufacturers of rubber cloths, tubing, etc. of Boston.

Roscoe Emery Bradbury.
Roscoe Emery Bradbury of Norway died at his home Monday, Dec. 11, of a violent heart disease, resulting from pneumonia. He was taken ill with pneumonia the last of October and had a relapse from which he would seem to gain only to relapse again and again each time a little weaker than before, until the last two weeks, when he steadily but gradually failed until he last He was so tired he could hardly get up and his life to come. Always a hard working, honorable, upright man; a good husband and loving father, he will be sorely missed by his relatives and many friends.

He was the last of a family of six boys and one girl. He was a brother of the late Joseph Bradbury, whose death occurred very suddenly last February. Mr. Bradbury was born in Greenwood, July 23, 1843, the son of Moses and Hannah (Knight) Bradbury. His age at the time of his death was 68 years, 4 months and 18 days.

He received his education in the public schools of Greenwood and Paris. He lived in Greenwood till the year of age, and in some years in Norway since 1872. He was a fireman and assistant engineer on Milwaukee and St. Paul R. R. Wis., in the early sixties. Since he has been farming in Paris and Norway.

He married Clara H. Bonney of Norway, Feb. 20, 1882. They have one daughter, Ethel M., who resides at home.

Politically he was a republican. The funeral was from the home, Thursday at 10:30 a. m. Rev. M. C. Ward being the attending clergyman. The bearers were John Bumpus, John Parsons, Albert Whitman and Simeon Yeaton. The interment was in Pine Grove cemetery. The flowers were beautiful from Mrs. Bradbury.

Stearns' Day.
Carl Stearns of Norway and Anna Day of Auburn were married in Boston last week. At present they are in Lewiston. The bride is the daughter of Mr. J. Day and has been employed in the T. A. Boston factory. The groom is the son of Walter S. Stearns of Norway, the well known leader of Stearns' orchestra.

Christmas Time Is Here!

W. J. Wheeler of South Paris is showing a large assortment of high grade pianos, organs, chairs, covers and other musical merchandise.

N. Dayton Bolster of South Paris has his usual line of goods in all his different departments for the Christmas trade. In the linen departments are tray cloths, towels, pillow tops and handkerchiefs, etc. The china department contains dinner sets, fruit sets, all kinds of dishes and lamps. The carpet department contains art squares, rugs, lace curtains, portieres, couch covers, etc.

W. O. Frothingham has his usual large stock of shoes for men, ladies, boys and girls, also slippers, leggings, gaiters, etc. His windows are decorated in the Christmas colors of red and green. He is also selling fur robes and horse blankets.

The Blue store at South Paris is decorated with Christmas colors, silver garlands and Christmas bells. The store is full of all kinds of furnishings for girls and boys for the Christmas trade. Samuel Richards offers you glasses that fit correctly, every lens individually ground, an excellent Christmas present.

C. H. Howard's drug store is very tastefully decorated with streamers of fancy holly ribbon paper. The goods are shown off to good advantage by the use of the special counters. Here can be found books of all kinds, leather goods, stationery, fountain pens, dolls, toys, games, calendars and cards. The windows are very pretty, being decorated with a back ground of alternating stripes of holly ribbon paper, and silver garlands. One window is devoted to, our toys, the other to books, stationery, cards, sachets, and calendars decorated in water colors.

At Parmenter's you will find a large variety of clocks, rings, Toric kryptok glasses, fountain pens, reading glasses and many others. Mr. Parmenter's store is well covered with posters advertising the Maine gems he is giving to his customers.

L. I. Gilbert has his store filled with the usual supply of groceries and special good things for Christmas, including, candies, fruits, also turkeys and chickens.

The Season's First Basket Ball Games.

The first basket ball games of the season were played at the Norway Opera House, Friday evening, before a large and enthusiastic audience.
"Yes," he says, "enthusiasm is right. Of all the war whoops and sounds of joy that could come from an audience descended on its players, Friday night, the royal rutes occupied the stage, the seats of honor. The serenades were led by 'Shorty' Cook with his little tin horn. There was Charles S. Akers and I. W. Waite, and even Selden Foster, who took their places on the rooster's stage, and I swear, they all have good lungs."

The first game was between the Lumley Castle band of South Paris and the Norway High school team and rather an interesting game was played. The Norway boys were a little too much for the South Paris team and before the game was over they had it put all over them. The South Paris team were no match for the Norway boys, and they most decidedly lacked team work. The score was 28 to 22 in favor of the Norway team.
The second game was between the Bridgton High School and the Norway Regulars. The game was especially interesting as the players were very evenly matched, and a decidedly good clean game was the result. The Bridgton boys were well liked by the Norway boys, and probably other games with this team will be played later in the season. Thompson of Norway and Larabee of Bridgton were the stars of the game and on the whole it was a dandy all round game. The Norway Regulars won with a score of 34 to 28.

The line-up was as follows:

After the basket ball games, Stearns' orchestra took their place on the stage and "struck up the band" and a large number joined in the dance, which was in order until a late hour.

The Trembling Banquet.

W. W. Twombly gave a most enjoyable banquet, Saturday evening at L. O. O. F. Hall to the stage hands, the ushers of the Norway Opera House, the members of the cast along the Missouri, the high school orchestra and a few specially invited guests.

Judge, Wm. F. Jones in a few well chosen words extended a hearty welcome to the guests in behalf of Mr. Twombly.
The delicious supper was served about thirty guests and consisted of oyster stew, pies, cakes and all the good things that go to make up a supper that is carefully and thoughtfully planned.

After the supper, to which each one did ample justice, it is needless to say, a very enjoyable evening was passed with music by the members of the orchestra, which included, Bernice Nash, Marion Haskell, E. O. Herms and Richard Stiles; selections were also given by the quartet, composed of Harold A. Anderson, Ed. L. Burdell, Raymond Brooks and Wendall J. Elauders.
Those who enjoyed this pleasant evening for providing such an evening's entertainment and those who were unable to attend appreciate the kindness of this invitation and are sure they missed a good time as all say, "William did it up brown."

Has a Stipend on His Hands.

The Maine State Dairymen's Association met in Norway, Dec. 5, 6 and 7. It was a largely attended meeting and productive of much good among the farmers. They were in a dairying community greatly interested in the improved methods of dairying.

We have yet to hear that those attending failed to find accommodations. In fact arrangements were made for many more than were here during the meeting though we are told by those who follow these meetings that the number of people from a distance compared well with former meetings.

Far be it from us to tell how well we did the job of entertaining, but we will let our guests speak for themselves. The verdict was "We have never been so well entertained in any place where we have met as in Norway, and we never had so good a time or so instructive a meeting."

The association voted to meet at Norway. They came. Their officers were present. They conducted their meetings in an up-to-date manner, as is their custom. They elected their officers in their usual manner for another year and transacted business connected with the Maine Dairymen's association in a timely and decorous manner, with a dignity well becoming this branch of agriculture.

There were lectures from such men as the Master of the State Grange, the President of the University of Maine, others from the United States Department of Agriculture, and several specialists or heads in different Agricultural Associations, besides practical men in dairying.
The Commissioner of Agriculture, James P. Buckley of Westbrook, we read, did not want the meeting held anywhere but at Portland. He decided it should be held at Portland even if he had to hold it himself sans association. We quote—James P. Buckley, State Commissioner of Agriculture, announces that a state dairymen's meeting would be held in Portland, Dec. 27, 28 and 29, under the auspices of the State department. The State Dairy Association a few weeks ago held its annual meeting in Norway, against the desires of Commissioner Buckley, who asked that it be in Portland. As a result of this action the State stipend was withheld from the association and the meeting was an independent one.

Again—"In view of the fact that a dairy institute has not been held in Portland for the past 18 years, James P. Buckley, State Commissioner of Agriculture, has decided to have one in this city next week under the auspices of the department. Two weeks ago an institute was held in Norway under the auspices of the Maine Dairymen's Association, but in view of the fact that hotel accommodations would permit but a comparatively few people from outside being accommodated there Mr. Buckley opposed holding the same in that place. The officers, however, had the meeting there, but the support of the State Department of Agriculture was withheld."

"Mr. Buckley has made up his program for his meeting."
Norway does not care how many meetings the Dairymen's Association has in a year, but it does protest against this talk that it could not accommodate an association it invited through its Board of Trade and its Grange.

Evidently the meeting was endorsed by dairymen and agriculturists high up in the order or they would not have given their sanction by their presence. Because after all, the State's servant by reason of his office, thinks a farmers' meeting ought to be held in the metropolis against the wish of the majority, is no reason for withholding the State's money for prizes honestly and justly won.

What will become of that stipend? Few honest men would want to compete and win again money that belongs to others and has been won.
Mr. Buckley is a milkman and we understand is well up in his business. This second meeting is his meeting, given under his great seal of sanction, the seal of the Commissioner of Agriculture of the State of Maine. But would he feel like entering the arena for a prize? Would he feel like winning this stipend or any part of this stipend?

Black Bears, Deer and Moose. Wolves not Plenty.

Ben and Henry Hosmer returned to Norway some days since from an 8-day deer hunt in the wilds of West Bethel "one" so-called. This slough land resides principally if not wholly in Fryeburg Academy Grant and you get to it by the way of West Bethel.

These hunters stopped with Ollison Brown, who lives nearly at the end of the road and cultivates the soil and entertains hunters, fishermen and summer tourists. The Hosmer boys scoured over the mountains and up onto the sides of the mountain and tracked, trailed and caught passing glimpses of many deer. A fresh bear trail was followed until it got so "warm" as to cause loss of courage and they gave it up. A four-point and a no-horn buck was killed and brought out.

On the precipitous sides of "Picked Henry"—this is the name of a mountain, the decaying carcass of a big cow moose was found. It had been shot, throat was cut and hide partially removed. Probably the poacher took fright at something and beat a hasty retreat to skip the confines of Paris jail.

Long-legged woodsmen Mr. Hosmer have been investigating their cow affair for some weeks but as yet have been unable to locate the guilty ones. "Ben and Hen" followed the scent and found the body which is slowly being devoured by animals, presumed foxes.

Ed. Bassett of South Paris, a brother of the late Detective, was passed by the P. Bassett of Norway, who does something in the show business at Central Park, was in his camp under the mountain near the bog and was accompanied by Frank E. Kimball, the South Paris carriage painter. They had two deer where when the Hosmer boys left. Mr. Bassett has recently built a comfortable camp and immensely enjoys staying here.

There will be a business meeting of the Ladies' Circle at the Congregational church, Thursday evening following the regular prayer meeting.

Shoes That Look Well.

What are you going to do when your skirts are short and your foot takes a puny seven shoe?

This is a question propounded by a woman who surveys herself in a skirt that reaches down just below her shoe-tops. Her foot and ankle show, and when she walks, she knows that a glimpse of the shoe buttons is inevitable.

The answer is given by a New York shoe dealer. He says that it is a matter of understanding how to buy shoes.

"Buy pretty shoes," is his first advice. "Get all you want of them, all you need, all you can wear. Your feet will be in better shape if you have 12 pairs of shoes than if you have only one pair."

"The philosophy of many pairs of shoes is not difficult to understand. A shoe pinches the foot in a certain spot. By changing the shoes the pressure is changed. Consequently the tired spots are rested and the foot is made comfortable."

"No foot can be comfortable all the time unless one is the owner of a last or stretcher. This costs, maybe, $2. It can be put in the shoe and adjusted until it touches the uncomfortable spot. The leather of the shoe is now moistened and the shoe is left on the stretcher over night. The next day the bad spot in the shoe is gone."

"Tight shoes spoil the walk, making a woman step awkwardly. Shoes that pinch in any one spot will deform the feet so that the next pair of shoes will be badly shaped and so on until one cannot wear a shapely boot."

"To dress the foot prettily, and it is difficult to see how any woman can neglect her feet these days, it is only necessary to get shoes that are stylish. Change in shoes so rapidly that those of last year will hardly be smart this year."

"It makes no difference how long a shoe is provided it is narrow. The woman who wears a shoe seven or eight inches longer than the foot, and the pretty vamp and all the smart fads. Her shoes are long, the toes are padded with cotton, and she is comfortable no matter what is done to her shoes."

French women are said to wear shoes two inches longer than the foot. Any way their feet look long and narrow, and though their shoes are not as good as ours, their feet certainly look chic.

"High heels are never pretty. The heel should be shaped so that it is as graceful as a tall heel. By curving it a little and shaping it a low heel presents the effect of a tall one. Any smart shoe maker will manage it."

"French heels are comfortable for dancing, but are stretched for walking, as they tilt one forward too far. The Cuban heel is better and the tall, straight heel is best. Heels are all a matter of habit anyway, and of getting used to them. The woman who wears heels at all can easily adjust her step to a moderately tall heel."

"Women have an idea that shoes must be put on and worn. Comfortable or not, they must be worn just as they are. This is a wrong idea. Gowns must be fitted, adjusted and padded. How much more necessary to treat the shoe in the same way?"

"Moderately heavy stockings are more comfortable than very thin ones for the reason that they pad the inside of the shoe."

"Wearing little shoes makes the foot look no smaller. It is the big, handsome, well shaped shoe that looks the smallest."

HEBRON.

Hebron's Manager.

At a meeting of the Hebron Athletic association, Joseph Hodgkins, '13, was elected manager of the football team next year. Fred Palmer, '14, and Albert Waterman, '14, were elected assistant managers. On the motion of Prof. Sargent it was also voted in the future to assess the members of the faculty $3 a year for association dues. Another important matter which was brought up was that of whether Hebron Academy should have a basketball team this year. Basket ball was voted out by the association two years ago on account of the many a d serious injuries received by the players. The matter was laid on the table until next term.

The December issue of the Hebron Semester reflects credit upon the editors. This issue contains a well written, though rather technical article entitled "Epithalamion" and also an interesting article in criticism of the Hebron Academy "Curriculum." The editorial board is as follows: James Parsons, '12, editor-in-chief; Ernest C. Fuller, '13, assistant editor; Ralph P. Goodrich, '12, business manager; Raymond L. Atwood, '13, assistant business manager; Ethel Pierce, '12, Marvel Martin, '12, Roderique F. Soule, '12, William Crockett, '12, Vera Chipman, '13, Harold Crockett, '13, Amy Church, '14, Neseeb Malouli, '14, associate editors. The editorials in this issue are good and while the athletic column will be especially interesting to all graduates and under-graduates of Hebron. The paper is steadily improving and already has a high literary standard.
